Relais & Chateaux celebrates its 70th anniversary in 2024. We are proud to have been a member for almost 50 years.

ALPS. NATURE.

The elements in harmony

Since ancient times, people have been aware of the influence of the four elements of fire, water, earth and air. The balance of these forces ensures harmony and equilibrium.

In the natural surroundings of the Hotel "Gasthof Post", this unity of the elements is a matter of course. This Alpine power is maintained on the premises of the hotel.

In the "Post" kitchen, all the elements blend into a harmonious whole. They bring the distinctive features of the Lech mountains to life for all the senses. Taste the Alps. Try new flavours and enjoy the traditional.

Under Executive Chef Michael Rieser, creations are crafted that make the sense of the region and the homeland tangible and at the same time allow you to immerse yourself in the culinary diversity of this world with a fine sense of vision.

We rely on regional foods as the foundation of our cuisine concept. Products that are lovingly and carefully produced by farmers and suppliers from the immediate vicinity ensure the highest quality in all areas, which you can definitely taste!

But we go even further and pay attention not only to the impressions we are leaving behind, but also to the footprints. And that's why we act sustainably - for our guests, our homeland and future generations!

No pleasure is temporary, because the impression it leaves behind is lasting.
...said Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.

From the Old High German Fiur or Fuir. Has shaped the history of humankind for over 1.8 million years. Makes us feel COMING HOME.

The element of fire has a special place in the design of culinary concepts. Culinary art and a love of cooking - the passion for good food runs through the menus of the various restaurants and Stuben. The atmosphere is framed by atmospheric lighting concepts, and the cosy places are appropriately staged.

IN CONVERSATION with chef Michael Rieser

The non-native Lech resident's passion besides the mountains? Quite clearly: culinary delights.

Making the joy of the Alps tangible with all the senses characterises his work – especially here, in such a tradition-steeped family-owned property. 5 stars for the guests, 5 stars for the palate. And here too, the element of fire plays a key role. With the qualities of self-confidence, energy, zest for action, joie de vivre and transformation, it is the element that most significantly determines the culinary offering.

What are the great passions behind your career choice?

I love cooking. And for me, that starts with the selection of products. We live in a region that is characterised by small-scale farming. The animals spend their summers on the mountain pastures. The farmer families look after each individual animal personally. Fruit growers tend and care for their gardens and trees. The water often comes directly from the surrounding mountain springs. Such raw products are a real pleasure. The opportunity to work with these ingredients here at the Hotel "Gasthof Post" reminds me again and again that I have chosen exactly the right profession.

So simple – but also so wide-ranging and multifaceted.

What makes working at the Hotel "Gasthof Post" so special for you?

In addition to the truly breathtaking nature surrounding the hotel, I love the people of the region. They are cosmopolitan but are also aware of their roots. That's also evident in the kitchen.

A look at international high-class cuisine mixed with traditional dishes and old recipes. That's what makes it special for me.

Serving people good food is my passion ...

Is there a dish that you particularly recommend?

Personally, I don't have a favourite dish. That would rule out so many dishes. I love experimenting and tasting lots of different flavours. The gourmet menu, which we serve every Thursday to Sunday in our Postblick panorama restaurant on advance booking, offers a variety of different creations.

Depending on the season, I also recommend dishes with meat from Tyrolean stone sheep from our own farm.

*For me,
enjoyment is as varied
as the people who visit the "Post".
Let yourself be pampered!*

Indulgence at home

Homemade products from the "Post", Alpine wellness products, golden honey, refreshing juices and much more can be ordered in the FeinPostLaden shop directly on site or via the online shop.

The Schloss Gobelsburg winery

The Schloss Gobelsburg winery is located in Langenlois in Lower Austria, one of Europe's best-known and most popular wine regions. The different soils and microclimatic conditions as well as the careful cultivation ensure the best wines and numerous awards from renowned wine connoisseurs.

The sun-drenched terraced vineyards at the Zöbinger Heiligenstein, the Gaisberg and the extensive vineyards around the Gobelsburg ensure that the wines are afforded the best possible opportunity to develop. Winemakers Michael and Eva Moosbrugger choose the best conditions for their selected grape varieties according to their different potentials.

Schloss Gobelsburg is the oldest winery in the Danube region of Kamptal and looks back on a documented history of winegrowing dating back to the 12th century.

Our vision for the future is to carry on this special wine heritage and to see the climatic and social changes not only as a challenge, but also as a great opportunity for new methods, varieties and exceptional results.
